Nominations Now Open for 2020 Innovations in Regulatory Science Awards

Washington, DC – Nominations are now open for the 2020 Innovations in Regulatory Science Awards presented annually by the Reagan-Udall Foundation for the Food and Drug Administration. These Awards celebrate outstanding achievement in regulatory science and policy.

Awards will be presented in three categories:

Leadership – honoring an individual’s significant contributions, national leadership, and service in the field of regulatory science and public health

Innovation – recognizing an individual, team, or organization that has improved public health through a specific innovation in regulatory issues or science

Advocacy/Policy – recognizing an individual, group, or organization for significant policy achievements that advance regulatory science and have a direct impact on the public

Nomination details and forms can be downloaded from the Foundation website at www.ReaganUdall.org.

About the Reagan-Udall Foundation for the FDA

The Reagan-Udall Foundation for the FDA is an independent 501(c)(3) created by Congress to advance regulatory science to help the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) accomplish its mission. The Foundation works to improve health and safety through stakeholder engagement and public-private partnerships that facilitate innovation, foster the use of real-world evidence, and identify modern tools and polices to keep pace with today’s rapidly evolving science.
